New England North West Health Ltd (Trading as HealthWISE New England North West) will be referred to as HealthWISE for the purpose of this document.

Purpose

This procedure has been developed to ensure a systematic quality improvement process is utilised to address complaints that may arise during the delivery of HealthWISE services.

When a person makes a complaint, they have the right to be heard and to have their concerns taken seriously, with a view to resolution. To ensure clients are aware of the process for feedback, or complaints, all new clients to HealthWISE are to be given a brochure that outlines their rights and responsibilities as a service recipient. This includes information on the complaints procedure.

Authorised Staff

All staff can accept a complaint and where necessary refer it to their Line Manager and/or the HealthWISE Operations Manager. A central contact point (HEALTHWISE Operations Manager) is also available for receiving complaints. They are then directed to the appropriate Senior Manager for response.

The Integrated Care Manager is authorised to respond to all clinical services complaints using the procedure outlined below.

The Aboriginal Health Access Manager is authorised to respond to all complaints regarding Aboriginal Health service delivery.

If the complaint arises about other aspects of the HEALTHWISE business (eg. Member services) or staff conduct, the response will be provided by the relevant Senior Manager.

If the complaint is deemed to be 'Serious' or 'Major', it shall be escalated to the attention of the CEO (who will notify the Board for 'serious' risks). Other complaints deemed to be 'Moderate', 'Minor' or 'Minimum' will be managed at the level of Senior Manager (or delegated staff member). (Refer to severity assessment codes in Appendix A).

Procedure

Complaint to a Service Provider

When a client (or their advocate), member, or stakeholder expresses what is considered to be a relatively minor concern or issue with a service provider, the service provider should initially attempt to resolve the problem with the complainant (and their advocate, if relevant).

The service provider should note key points during the discussion, advising the person they are doing so, to ensure that both the organisational representatives and the service provider have a concurrent record of the initial complaint, should it progress further. The record of the complaint shall be filed with the relevant Senior Manager (even if action is not needing to be taken by that Manager).

When it is evident that a complainant is not satisfied with the proposed solution and wishes to formalise the complaint, or when the service provider considers that the complaint requires a more formal process, then the following procedure should be initiated:

- Advise the complainant of the name and contact details of the appropriate authorised person (this is usually the appropriate Senior Manager) and ensure the complainant has a copy of the complaints policy, complaints procedure and complaints form.
- The service provider should also contact the authorised person (by e-mail and telephone) and advise them that a complaint has been received, the nature of the complaint, actions to date, and a copy of any written documentation that may be pertinent to the issue. In the absence of the relevant Senior Manager, the staff member shall discuss the complaint with another Senior Manager or the CEO. It is recommended that the complaint be reported to a Senior Manager on the day it is received.

Anonymous Complaints

HEALTHWISE is able to receive complaints made anonymously. The facility is set up on the website such that the complainant is able to leave the name, email address and phone fields blank if preferred. The website states that 'HEALTHWISE is able to receive anonymous feedback, however if you choose not to provide your name, phone number or email address we may not be able to provide a response to you personally'.

If the complaint is made verbally, the complainant will be asked how they would like to receive feedback about the outcome.

Action by Authorised Staff Member

The Senior Manager or delegate shall contact the relevant parties separately and at the earliest opportunity to establish the facts, actions to date, and obtain copies of any relevant documentation that may be pertinent to the issue.

The details may be obtained either face-to-face or by telephone, as determined by the situation.

When arranging meetings, advise those attending that notes will be taken during the discussion to ensure that the issues are clearly stated, and that actions are recorded so that they can be followed up effectively. Take notes during all meetings.

Meeting with the Complainant (and advocate where relevant)

Ask the person for factual details regarding the event.

Restate and reflect the concerns expressed by the complainant and seek confirmation from them regarding the accuracy and completeness of the information.

Ask the complainant if they would be prepared to complete the Complaint Form (if not already done). If not, the staff member or the client advocate should complete the Complaint Form on the person's behalf.

Express regret at the situation and apologise for any distress the person may feel (without saying that the organisation accepts responsibility for an error).

Ask the person what remedy they would suggest, and negotiate a solution where possible.

Document the solution on the form, and advise the complainant that this will be de-identified and then submitted to the Finance Audit and Risk subcommittee for collation and analysis, and may be presented to the relevant Sub-Committee for review and any additional recommendations, as part of continuous improvement.

Managing Complainant Frustration During Meetings

Recognise that the person's anger or aggression (if present) is related to the stressful situation, and is not a personal attack. In the event of aggressive or threatening behaviour:

- Calmly ask the person to cease their aggressive behaviour, advise that it is not productive, and if it continues no further assistance can be offered at this time.

Where the situation:

- remains unresolved, seek support from another member of the Management Team or the CEO, and initiate any further action as required.
- escalates, or where legal action might ensue, an incident report should be completed as soon as possible after the event.

Internal Actions to Support Continuous Improvement

Where the complainant is satisfied by the recommendations of the Senior Manager, the completed form should be de-identified and forwarded to the Operations Manager, who will register it and present it to the CEO and relevant subcommittee/s. The role of the subcommittee is to suggest additional strategies to reduce the likelihood of an issue recurring, and direct the implementation of any further actions.

Where the complainant is not satisfied with the solution suggested by the Senior Manager, the CEO and relevant sub-committee will recommend strategies and actions for the resolution of the complaint at the earliest opportunity, and determine with the Senior Manager how these strategies and actions are to be implemented.

The Senior Manager will need to contact the complainant as soon as possible and inform them of any additional solutions proposed by the Sub-Committee to resolve the complaint and avoid a future incident.

Complaints to an External Body

If the complainant is not satisfied with the way the complaint is handled, an external complaint bodies maybe contacted by the complainant at any stage.
